- Traffic vs. Sales: Store 86 successfully increased customer traffic, but overall revenue was impacted by promotional pricing.

01

Category

1. Category Overview :

Main Drivers: Budget Older Families and Mainstream Young Singles/Couples drive the vast majority of Chip Category sales.

Executive Summary :

- Top Revenue Segment:

Budget Older Families contribute the highest total sales. They buy more frequently and purchase larger pack sizes (specifically 175g) to feed larger households.

- High Growth Segment:

Mainstream Young Singles & Couples represent a massive customer pool. They are highly willing to spend on premium brands like Kettle and Smiths, making them a highly profitable target.

- Actionable Insight:

Product placement and shelf-space configuration should heavily prioritize 175g bags of Kettle and Smiths chips to maximize conversion among these core segments.

Customer Base Proportion :

Massive Customer Volume:

Mainstream Young Singles/Couples and Retired segments form the largest distinct customer pools in the category.

•Customer Density:

While Budget Older Families spend the most in total, Mainstream Young Singles/Couples actually make up the highest number of unique individual customers.

•The Retired Segment:

Mainstream Retirees represent another substantial portion of the customer base, offering reliable baseline traffic.

•Strategic Focus:

Marketing campaigns aiming to increase brand awareness should target Mainstream Young Singles/Couples due to their sheer volume in the store network.

Trial store performance

Trial Store 77 Performance:

Store 77 vs. Control Store 233

Significant Sales Uplift: Store 77 achieved a clear and statistically significant increase in total sales revenue during the trial period (March & April 2019).

Trial Store 86 Performance:

Store 86 vs. Control Store 155

Traffic Growth vs. Revenue: Store 86 successfully increased customer traffic, but overall revenue remained within normal bounds, likely impacted by promotional pricing.

Trial Store 88 Performance

Store 88 vs. Control Store 237

Validated Success: Store 88 delivered a powerful and statistically significant revenue expansion during the trial months.
